

CONFERENCE 2018

RAISING
& BOYS
& GIRLS

To Confidently
Engage a
Changing World

10 – 11 MAY 2018
ST STITHIANS COLLEGE

St Stithians College is proud to host a Raising Boys & Girls Conference in May 2018. The conference aims to provide a platform for delegates to critically engage on issues around the holistic education of boys and girls and will focus on aspects of gendered education, across all phases, related to cognitive, emotional, social and cultural trends. It is aimed at school leaders, teachers, parents and professionals (psychologists, remedial therapists, speech therapists etc) in both co-educational and single-sex schools.

Date: Thursday, 10 - Friday, 11 May 2018
Thursday 08h00- 17h30,
Friday 08h30- 15h30

Venue: St Stithians College, 40 Peter Place, Lyme Park, Sandton

Suitable for: School leaders, teachers, parents and relevant professionals, psychologists, remedial therapists, etc

Cost: REGISTRATION: R1750.00 pp
CLOSING DATE FOR REGISTRATIONS: 30 April 2018

Topics will include:

- The myths of Brain Science (Dr Ian Moll – Wits Professor, Head of Educational Technology)
- The Invisible Classroom (Sue Langley – Australian Neuroscientist)
- How culture shapes teenage gender identity (Nene Molefi - CEO of Mandate Molefi HR Consultants)

Speakers: Redi Thlabi, Roy Gluckman, Tina Taylor, Vusi Thembekwayo, Sue Langley, Dr Ian Moll, Megan du Toit, Megan-Lee Coetzee, Tim Jarvis, Dr Judy Dlamini, Stephen Baytopp, Nene Molefi, Michael Ettershank, Peter Alkema, Fred Schouwink, Elzette Fritz, David du Toit, Rob van Ginkel and Louise de Jager.

Register here (<http://bit.ly/2mYLxqD>) or for more information and a detailed programme, visit <http://www.stithian.com/content/page/raising-boys-and-girls-conference-2018> or contact Brigitte Kitule at conference@stithian.com / 011 577 6035